
The following is excerpted from Hanwha Surfaces Technical Bulletin HXTB-3 dated 5.31.05.

The basic composition of all Hanex Brand Solid Surface Colors is the same. However, some dark or heavily pigmented colors are not recommended for certain applications. These colors tend to show scratches, abrasion resulting from everyday wear and tear and surface imperfections more than lighter shades show. Therefore, it is recommended that these darker colors should not be considered for kitchen counters and other very high use areas unless the consumer is prepared to accept the additional maintenance and care required to keep the counters looking their best.

The Hanex 15 Year Limited Warranty does not cover against conditions such as scratches, stains, surface imperfections due to wear, water spots and/or burns.

Questions regarding specific applications and maintenance instructions may be directed to Hanwha Surfaces or its distributors.
